ends cut off and air holes cut in the palms. For red, rough, chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, with shapeless nails and painful finger ends, this treatment is simply wonderful. Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap Exclusively, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruif, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and motions, and challegs, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for alcerative weaknesses, and for many smaller antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the tailet, bath, and hursery. No amount of personsion causindace those who have once used it to useday offer especially file purposes of the tailet, bath, office, especially for preserving and purifying the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children. Corrected Soar combines delicate camblent properties derived from Corre

cons. the great skin ence, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odows. No other medicated soap ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, parifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, but, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, lath, and nursery. Thus it combines in ONE SOAP at ONE Pater, the hear skin and complexion soap, the near tollet and near baby soap in the world. Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour, Constilling of Curicum Boar, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, Curicum Olntment, to instantly allar itching and irritation and soothe and heal, and Curicum Hesolvent, to cool and cleanse the blood. A correspondent writes to me as follows from Tainan, Formosa :--My Dear Black Bishop, -Would you please, in your Saturday column, give me the name of a small bandbook on the Hon. Ser. and Treasurer various chess openings? I saw one the other day in a friend's house, but neglected to notice the name. It was a small octave, not a very costly book. I have the Hand buch, which is invaluable for study, but is not the book to take up in a hurry to see what one should have played in reply to a particular attack .- Yours truly.

RUY LOPEZ By the way, was the game for which the brilliancy prize was awarded at Monte Carlo so very brilliant? I played it over with a friend, rather quickly no doubt, but we could not see it. The attack was successfully repulsed, leading to a series of exchanges, which left the game equal except for nawns. Is that not rushes. for pawns. Is that not rather a common. place ending? Not like the great game of

Opinions differ as to the handiest book of openings. My own opinion is that 'The Chess Player's Pocket-Book and Manual of the Openings, edited by James Mor-timer, published at 122, High Holborn, W. C. (price, one shilling), is one of the handlest and casiest to understand. I doubt whether it is possible to get a copy, liowever, as I believe it is out of print. It is simply invainable to the chess student or the match player who wishes to keep himfeelf in form. The seventh chapter o Steiralz's Modern Chess Instructor, dealing with the 'Relative Value of Pieces and Principles of Play and Lasker's Common Sense in Chess' (price 2/6) should be studied by all carnest students. Steinitz is deadly dull, and requires close application, but Lasker is racy. For openings merely, I

In the sense that it is devoid of fire works, the game (Mason v. Napier) referred to by my correspondent is not likely to strike the ordinary amateur as brilliant; but, nevertheless, it has beauties of com-I bination which the chess strategist can fully appreciate. As it happened, however, the game referred to did not gain the brilliancy prize, though it, went the round of the journals as the winner. I publish below the game to which Prince Dadian, of Mingrelia, the president of the Monte Carlo committee, awarded his brilliancy prize, of 500 feares. The score and the notes age

HONOKONO, SATURDAY, JUNE 28, 1902.

ONE dominant factor of Continental international politics for the last thirty years, frequently overlooked by newspaper renders, has exerted a steady and effective pressure throughout in favour of peace and stability. The crushing defeat received by Austria from Prussia at the battle of Sadowa 30.00 (July 3, 1866) resulted in her total exclusion from Italy and Germany. The empire that had governed Lombardy and Sardinia, and controlled the Germ 12, Quen's Road. | confederation, was beaten back in succession of wars culminating in The battle, and compelled to devote a few years to consolidating her own existence Hungary was conciliated and Bohemia overawed. Leibnitz is credited with coining the significant anagram Austria -Vastari (to be devastated), and, as recently as 1880, a prominent English statesman challenged his hearers to point to a single spot on the map of Europe where they could say 'Here Austria did good.' But since Sadowa, there has been a most beneficial change The tyrant empire of the Continent has become its peace-keeper, and the European ruler whose death would most threaten to plunge Europe into war is the Emperor Erancis Joseph. It has been his skill and firmness which have bridled and yoked together the warring passions of Czechs and Germans, Slavs and Roumans, and his personal influence that holds together the slender bond that makes an undivided empire of Austria Hungg y. It is not an impossible task for peoples of varying race and traditions to form a loyal and united empire, but it is one of stupendous difficulty, and Great Britain scenis alone to possess the secret of its successful Celebrated accomplishment. We have many brother nations, differing widely in ali respects and yet held by a bond of unity stronger than steel in a common love for the empire and a common pride BLEND of patriotism, but there is much danger that the time will come when Austria will fall to pieces, as the Holy Roman Empire and Turkey have done before Tuotai, Sun Pao ch'i as Minister Yn Kêng's

Austria is our friend, because the lifework of its emperor has been the consolidation of peace in conjunction with stable government, a purpose steadily followed by no other nation, except our own. He has wrestled with similar problems to those with which we find ourselves confronted at the conclusion of the South African war. His task has been harder than ours, for he has been surrounded ravenous enemies, ready to tear his country to pieces if they were once convinced of his failure to unite it. The next great peril to peace may come with the death of Francis Joseph, and a partial dismemberment of his country. Accident at Shanghai.

The N.-C. Daily News of the 23rd inst, reports :- An accident occurred on the river on Saturday morning, but fortunately not of a very serious nature. As the str. Suim was leaving the wharf, sho fouled the N. Y. K. S. Iyo Mark, which was lying at the China Merchants' Lower Buoy, and carried away her moorings. The Suian suffered considerable damage, but the Ino Mara drifted up river on the flood tide without injury, and eventually, moored at the P. and O. Buoy.

THE NEW DUTCH LINE IN THE EAST.

The Bill placed before Parliament by the Dutch Government relating to the creation of a steamship service between Java and Chins and Japan, alluded to in the 'Foreign Maritime Notes, on the 3rd April, has now been passed by the Second Chamber. It is, in fact, intended to carry out a plan conceived about twenty-three years ago. In the Java budget of the year 1879 it was proposed to vote the sum of 100,000 floring for the above-mentioned purpose, but i was not sauctioned by Parliament; in the following year, however, a credit of 40,000 tained at the Official Receiver's Office florins was granted in support of a line of steamers to run between Socrabaja and China vist Macassar and Manile. Later on this service was extended, but the results did not come up to expectations, and at he termination of the contract it was not renewed. Further endeavours were with Japan, but after 163,000 floring has been sucrificed in the yeature it was given up. Dutch statesmen have, therefore, come to the conclusion that a steamship connection between the points named cannot be maintained unless the undertaking is in a position to work for a few years for a very small return, or even, if necessary, at a loss. In order to arrivo nt a satisfactory decision two questions presented themselves for consideration firstly, whether colonial or national interests of sufficient importance were bound up with the testablishment of the proposed steam line to induce the State to take a part of the risk; secondly, whether in face of the results of former attempts the condition of things has so changed since 1800 as to warrant the expectation that a service of the kind would gradually prove more profitable. After payment of a 5 per cent. dividend to the shareholders, the State is to take two-tifths of the profits, and three-fourths of the remaining threefifths after payment of a dividend of 4 per cent. The State pays a subvention of 300,000 floring per annum during the first five years, 230,000 floring per annum for the next five years, and 200 000 floring per annum for the concluding five years. In case the Company has to be liquidated (which cannot happen without the sanction of the Government, nor until the whole hally qualified. One would hope that this of the subvention-money has been returned) all the assets, after the debts are paid and the capital is extinguished at par, are to fall to the State. Further, it is stipulated that two-thirds of the necessary writing. steam tonnage for starting the line must be built in Holland, and the service must be a monthly one under the Dutch fing, while all the steamers required for the subsequent extension of the service must be built in Holland. Some people are weakly and emaciated. yet they are not, to say, sick. Their appetites are fair, they cat good, wholesome food, but they cannot gain flesh. The face je, their patritive functions are deficient. The fond may even be digested, but is not properly assimilated. With loss of, or lack of sufficient firsh there is a corresponding decline of strength and vigour. Comeliness of form is dependent, upon graceful curves. planapaces, rather then upon angles. Bony prominences, hollow cheeks and eyes, are Philippines. The shallow depression is lying not pleasing to the sight.

Steams Wine of Cod Liver Oil is an admirable fiesh-builder. It will increase the weight of almost suyone. improves the apposite, stimulates digestion. builds up nutrition. It presents cod liver oil so long landed as a fleely producer, in a much improved and more active form. It contains no harmful nor obnoxica ingredients and always produces good reents. wonderful flesh-creator for those who cannot get int. Steam's Wine produces adpetite, flash and strength . Hongkong Tides. The Tide Table given below has been compiled by the Nautical Almanae Offic in London from the result of the analysi of observations taken by means of an au tomatic tide-recording machine in the Wa cer Pollee Basin at Tsun Sha Tsui during the years 1887-8-9. The zero of the table is Low Water Ordinary Spring Tides, which has been found to be 2 feet below mean sea level. To obtain the depth of water on the tide cauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 5 ft. 7 in., and on the gauge at Lamont Dock Abordeen, add 12 ft. 9 in. to the height given in the table.
